PART 1

Nowadays, many people travel around the world and the city using the public transport or their own vehicle, such as a car.

However, some people want to protect the environment so they use the public transport which makes less pollution than cars. For example, a lot of countries have electric trains.

On the other hand, sometimes buying a car can be really expensive and people may not have the amount of money to afford a simple car. Therefore, they prefer to use public transports which are cheaper and it might be more comfortably.

Nevertheless, a lot of companies are developing new ways of travelling to solve this issues of pollution and costs. The creation of electric cars and the use of electricity in vehicles is being stimulated by many companies and also countries. Tesla is one of the most advanced in electric cars, for instance.

To sum up, I consider that the best way to travel is by car. One of the many advantages of it, is that is cleaner than the public transport because it´s yours. Also, you waste less time because sometimes the public transport is crowded and maybe there is no more space and you have to wait.

THE BEST SPORT EVER

We´ve all been keen on some kind of sport or activity sometimes such as football, tennis, rugby or chess. But for me, one of the sports I really enjoy is football.

This sport has been like a tradition in my family since my grandfather was born. Since then, all they boys in my family have played football a sport and some of them have achieved prizes.

As I play football, I also need an equipment and clothes. Usually I use a sportive t-shirt a short pant and, of course, football boots. However, it depends on which type of pitch you played because there are different types of boots for every pitch.

This sport is not only to know how to use really quick your feet and have a lot of skills but to use your head smartly in order to generate good situations of goal in the match. I believe that the main skill in this sport is to use your brain.

I played in the neighbourhood team and I really have a good time with my teammates and I also like playing matches with different people.
